Among those, 43 packagings have been awarded in the beverage category, 14 in electronic, 43 in the food category, 23 in health and beauty, 7 in household, 14 in pharmaceuticals and medical and 19 in the Other category.

In the beverage category, Worldstars are given to :

- 330 ml Sarita flavored alcoholic beverage bottle from Consol Glass, South Africa. This non-returnable packaging, which received a Gold Pack Awards in 2007 in South Africa, is used for a new apple taste alcohol, stretches the existing bottle design concepts, and allows heavy embossing and debossing. It is further enhanced with an easy opening Rip Tab closure. Clear labels using double foil print round off the pack.
- Aluminium beverage bottle for beer/wine/spirits : produced by the Indian company Al-Can Exports, the light weight and unbreakable aluminium bottle received an Indiastar award in 2006. The packaging allows a faster cooling of the product, chill retention with a beer kept cold 50 minutes longer than in a glass bottle. Environmental friendly and 100% recyclable, the aluminium bottle has a bright finish and a nice aesthetic design helped by high impact graphics that offer attraction on shelves. This solution does not require paper labels.
- Asahi Super Dry Slim bottle : conceived by Asahi Breweries in Japan, this packaging received an Award at the Japan Good Packaging Contest in 2007. This 350 ml aluminium bottle is easy to carry and open, and easy to dispose and recycle. Its appealing appearance, “never seen in conventional bottle-can” argues the company, provides consumers a new way of enjoying beer. The solution is realized in cooperation with Takeuchi Press Industries.
- Bag-in-box packages for white and red wine “Enigma del Inka” : The 2007 Package Star of Russia, realized by Closed Joint Stock Company “Design ctr. Winegraph”, the series of two boxes for red and white wine uses national south-american motives and ornaments of ancient Inka. The box shape reminds the Inka pyramids. A 185g cardboard paper is used as upper liner and two layers of microcorrugated board E.
- Baggio aromas : the stand up pouch from Pipa Design and Propaganda in Brazil, which has been awarded as Premio ABRE Design e Embalagem in 2007 in Brazil, is a laminated black colored bag bringing sophistication to the special aroma coffee packed inside. A valve allows to smell the coffee aroma and a golden metal ribbon is used to reclose the pack.
- Baishui Dukang 18 years old : the Xi’An Global Printing Co. packaging, which received a Packstar award in China in 2007, is a reference to the Chinese history. Chinese people prefer liquor with long history, so the packaging has to present an eye-catching design. The ink marks of Chinese characters “Bai Shui Du kang” on yellow wrinkled paper is vivid, which makes the name of the product more attractive. The laser hot printed words, Chinese stamp patterns and ancient writing as the brown inner paper show the long history of the product brand. The structure of this package could protect the inner bottle of liquor well.

- Box for Zwack Kosher palinka : the Hungarian packaging from STI Petofi Printing House has been awarded by an Hungaropack in 2007. The cardboard used for the box is a Smicote 350g/m² + 17 PET. The simple graphics as well as the unique and structure coating on the metalized stock ensure its speciality and elegance. It has a crash-lock bottom and its surface is decorated with embossed print and graphics. The type of premium category promotional Zwack Kosher palinka can be easily seen through the window cut in the inside of the box. The ornamental box adds value to the product.
- Carlsberg Plastic Crate : these days every beer crate is trying to be different. The Basic Carte for the Carlsberg portfolio, designed by Feldmann & Schultchen design studios and awarded with an If Communication Award in 2007 in Germany, is happy to stay the same. The crates panels present well-rounded brand vignettes, composed in a silver, technically ribbed exterior. Each of the group's brands shines from an individual core and is part of a structure that unites the stack of crates in a single corporate architecture.
- Chill Pack : Mondipack Western Cape received a Gold Pack Awards in 2007 in South Africa for this pack that holds products cold with ice for an extended period of time, to ensure the product chilling before its consumption. The inner liner is a one piece hand folded leakproof material designed from a Coldpak material and poly-coated on both sides. The Savanna Chill Pack holds 12 x 330 ml beer bottles. With its distinctive design depicting condensation it became a favourite in South Africa. The pack is also easy to transport, to bring to parties and barbecues. Twenty minutes are enough to chill the content with ice, and tests showed that the water can be held for 2 weeks without leaking.
- Cyclero for Amaroy Coffee Pads : the Huhtamaki Ronsberg new flexible packaging concept received an Alufoil Trophy in Germany in 2007. The first market use of this Cyclero packaging was produced for the retailer Aldi Süd, in Germany. The 8 color rotogravure printed OPP/PET/ALU/PP laminated container offers improved product protection and real differentiation at point of sale. It is easy to open and re-close, while the rounded body is tactile and comfortable to hold, and stable on shelf. Cyclero is soon to be launched for non-carbonated beverages. This new concept is light, easy to open and reclose, and easy to dispose with little waste.
- Cyclero / Drinkbax for softdrinks (non carbonated) : Huhtamaki Ronsberg received a German Packaging Award in 2007 in Germany for this new flexible packaging for non carbonated soft drinks. The Cyclero/Drinkbax is revolutionary in this market. The stylish and soft packaging has happy properties which induces a feeling of freshness of the filled product. Cyclero stands for on the go consumption, is environmental friendly, and easy to open. It provides high barrier (aluminium foil or transparent with SiO_x/AlO_x) and protects the aroma. Long shelf life pasteurization or sterilization are possible.

- Double closure pack : Abdulla Industries & Packaging in Sri Lanka received a Lanka Gold Star at Lanka Star in 2007 in Sri Lanka. The sack for teat packaging and transport is presented with a novel double flap closure consisting of two flaps. The product is then protected from any contact with the adhesive used to close the sack (that can contaminate the tea and develop fungus), and the leakproof characteristic of the packaging is improved compared to the conventional solutions. The sack offers better barrier properties to retain aroma and offers moisture resistance.
- Dragon Seal Merlot Dry Red Wine : The Chinese company Fujian Lucky Horse group received in China a Packstar 2007 for this silk package of Dragon Merlot dry red wine, made of the special print paper with wine colors, showing the soft and balanced characteristics of Merlot wine. It displays Chinese characteristics of Dragon Seal : Dragon for the totem of China, and Seal for the king's stamp. Under light, the silk cylindrical package could reflect fluctuant ruby gloss, which exactly shows the character of Merlot wine, whose tannins with plenty of power form a balanced structure and an elegant finish.
- Excap : the Japanese company Gold Pak received a japan good packaging contest award in 2007. This spout has innovative features allowing a user to pour the content as liquid or jelly-like products into other containers. Excap is designed for use with large-sized packagings as aseptic cartons with a straw hole of 8 mm.
- Gift Box for Changyu Dry Red Wine : Shenzhen era design & printing received a packstar award in China in 2007 for this gift box that highlights the whole display effect. It is convenient to be transported and is not easily destroyed. The bottle of wine appears as it is suspended vertically. The bottle is supported by a PE support inside the folding wine box. Recycled materials are used for this packaging.
- Gift packaging for Black velvet whisky : Ima-Press-Print in Russia received a Package-Star of Russia in 2007 for this gift box in classic style that includes a box and an insert. There is a room for a Black Velvet bottle and another for two glasses. The box is made of two layers microcorrugated board and features a chrome ersatz board liner, it is also five colors printed with selective UV varnishing and two points gluing. A plastic handle eases its use.
- Glass bottle 0.5 l Zhytnytsya : Saint-Gobain Zorya in Ukraine received a Ukrainian Packaging Star in 2007 for this modern glass bottle, produced using an up-to-date technology of narrow neck press and blow (NNPB). The bottle is lightweight, has thin walls and no settle wave. The coating sprayed on its external surface makes it stronger. The stylish design emphasizes the singular taste of the Zhytnytsya vodka.
- Glossy Ganoderma Preserved Wine : Shanghai XXYS Package Design won a China PackStar in 2007 for this Taoist inspired packaging. The overall design originates from the concept of Taoism Healthcare. The bottle core pattern is a calabash consisting of glossy ganoderma and floating cloud drawing. In Chinese traditional culture, glossy ganoderma is a medicine of strong mysterious wonder, which looks like a floating cloud. The S-shaped ornamental object extensively represents longevity and good luck? The cap is specifically designed into a calabash as the visual focus.

The bottle design features simplicity and round and complete as the main shape, which represents grandeur and harmony, the hollow portion looks like the moon inside the floating cloud, adding a flavor of fairy sense.

- Recycled HDPE milk bottle : Dairy Crest in United Kingdom won a Starpack award in 2007 for this HDPE bottles made from recycled resin : a first in the world. Dairy Crest also encouraged infrastructure growth with the building of a new factory for the production of those recycled bottles, saving 60 000 tonnes of plastic from landfill. The bottles are on sale in all M&S stores with no additional cost.
- Heineken 10 L Beer Keg : the French company Impress Metal Packaging received in Germany a Deutscher Verpackungspreis in 2007 for the 10 liters beer keg with integrated pressure system (Heineken patent) : beer stays fresh for 30 days after opening. This keg is co-developed by Impress and Heineken. The TenCan can be used in a Draught Beer installation, called Xtreme Draught, that was developed by Heineken. The special task for this keg is a pressure resistance with at minimum 5 bars. This is reached by a special shaping of top and bottom and a shaped body with an extreme expanding rate. A distortion printing with a special lacquer combination provides a brilliant optic after the extreme expanding process. The plastic handles, assembled after filling, brings convenience to the consumer.
- Hi Café : NE.S in Israel won an Israel Star in 2007 for a world registered patented seal canister that preserves freshness and aroma to the last grain. The sealing device is installed at the neck of the jar during the packaging process, under the twist top closure.
- Martenelli's 10 oz Apple Juice Container : Graham Packaging in the United States received an AmeriStar award in 2006 for the first successfully implemented liquid nitrogen dosed hot fill narrow neck beverage bottle. A breakthrough for an industry seeking panel-less light weight hot fill bottles. It broadened the scope of design motions permitting replication of an apple shaped bottle, formerly in glass. The nitrogen dosing system increases top load, adds rigidity to the package and reduces gram weight requirement. It also minimizes secondary packaging and eliminates head space oxygen.
- Mondi Retail Redy wine pack : Mondipack Western Cape won a Gold Pack Awards in 2007 in south Africa for a packaging adopted by Tesco and approved for shipping wine, designed to be opened by hand, carried and displayed in-store and easy to breakdown after use. Produced using a new paper engineered for Mondi, it has a semi gloss finish and the patented design allows top flaps to hide perforated strip, with tearstrip that pulls off cleanly. Design consists of 2 to 3 removable panels.
- Neviot 5 liter bottle : Neviot nature of Galilee in Israel received an Israel Star 2007 for a 5 liter bottle with tap closure designed for the brand. The packaging offers family indoors & outdoors use facilities. The bottle has several functional advantages : one side is designed such as the bottle can lay stability on it while pouring water from the bottle. The tap is easy to use either by adults and childs. In horizontal position, the bottle height reaches 20 cm maximum, this provides comfort and easiness while putting it in the refrigerator. The bottle shape is copied from the 1.5 liter Neviot bottle.

- Niu Lan Shan classic Er Guo Tou liquor : Shenzhen Baixinglong Printing and Package design received a PackStar award in China in 2007 for the traditional looking packaging. The main idea of design is based on the royal culture of the Imperial Palace with the use of noble factors such as royal pattern, ancient vessel seat and red peach wood box, so as to create a royal atmosphere. The main presenting method is a dragon-twined ball style porcelain vase from Longquan kiln, interspersed with golden fringe and dragon pattern.
- Packing for the souvenir set of vodka Medoff : Media Prostir in Ukraine won a Unkrainian Packaging Star in 2007 for a packaging constructed as an octahedron, which reminds of the honeycombs, that harmoniously combines packing with the name of brand. An original designer decision allows compact to place four bottles of vodka in the middle, and successfully located on the lateral sides of window demonstrate a good view of what is inside. At making packing were used cardboard with two layers, which has an exact butt end, which is very important with plenty of windows. No washboard look from fluting. Packaging has a handle to ease transportation. A classic design is build on the contrast of black background with yellow inscriptions and gold stamping. Selective UV lacquer does packing stylish and elegant, and contrasting to it mat lamination gives packing charm and feeling of velvet by touch.
- Peroni wrap-around display carton : the Mondipack Pinetown facility in South Africa has been awarded by a Gold Pack Awards in 2007 for the distribution pack that can convert to a retail display with easy access to the 3 x 6 packs of SAB Miller premium beer Peroni. The pack protects the glass bottles and maintain the brand image and quality on all 4 sides, even when opened as a display. Precise print and cutting matched branding, and good perforation allowed panels to be removed easily without defacing the pack.
- Ron Mocambo, 20 anos, edicion de Arte : Licores Veracruz, S.A. de C.V. in Mexico received an Envase y Embalaje Estelar in 2007 for this consumer beverage packaging. Using a natural Mexican fiber that wraps and at the same time exhibits the content of this appealing, original and ecological bottle which can be reusable and collectable, the company presents an elaborated Mexican Rum. The use of fibers expresses a contemporary art way of applying aesthetic principles. The fusion of fibers on glass transmits t(he sensibility of both materials to the deep amber shade of the liquid.
- Sleever for Coca-Cola Soccer Ball : Sleever International Ltda in Brazil received an Embanews award in 2007 for the sleeve realised for Coca-Cola Soccer Ball bottle, which decoration required a technology capable of developing a continuous design over 360° on a spherical shape.
